A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/12/2008 has been entered.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is confusing in view of claim 8 since claim 1 claims treating specimens in a common liquid yet claim 8 teaches treating the specimens in different liquids.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-2 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by BILS 4,202,289.

BILS teaches the design of an apparatus for treating specimens in a common liquid (see Figures 1 and 5-6) which is comprised of the following elements: a first structure providing a chamber for holding the liquid, and a second structure as shown in Figure 9 including holding means for releasably holding the specimen holding tube with specimen or specimens therein, the first and second structures being manually movable in a direction having a vertical component between a first position in which the holding means are relatively close to the chamber and in which the second structure closes the top of the chamber to enable the specimens to be immersed in the liquid whilst the latter is protected from the environment, and a second position in which the holding means are relatively distant from the chamber to enable the specimens to be loaded onto or unloaded from the holding means, and further in which the chamber is in the form of an annular trough; the holding means hold the specimen holding tube with specimen or specimens therein so that the latter depend from the holding means at angularly spaced positions around a circle; and the second structure includes a lid which acts to close the chamber in the first position and the underside of which carries the holding means. BILS teaches every element of the claimed apparatus set forth in claim 1. With respect to claim 2, BILS second structure is capable of being manually shiftable relative to the first structure to remove the holding means from the chamber. With respect to claim 7, BILS holding means is capable of being manually rotatable around a central axis to facilitate manual removal of tissue specimens from the holder.

Claims 3 and 8 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
